| Mallige College of Pharmacy admits students from various regions and backgrounds with varied cultures, and thence, the institution believes in multidisciplinary teaching and is further planning to recognise a few programs to encourage and enhance interest in other disciplines other than the regular teaching and learning process in pharmacy. As a part of the initiation of the New Education Policy 2020, we have organised programs on human values, a survey of villages, and several social functions in |   |

villages to help the villagers. Further, we have organised several yoga and meditation classes. Special motivational classes and professional ethics programs other than the regular curriculum have been organised for students on campus. Furthermore, our institution has organised several programs to showcase the talents of students, and students have participated in community outreach initiatives such as organising health awareness programs on cancer, personal hygiene, etc. Also, the institution is ISO accredited, and it is constantly striving to maintain the quality of education at all levels.

16.Academic bank of credits (ABC):

The Academic Bank of Credit, referred to as ABC in short, is a virtual mechanism that will deal with the credits earned by students of higher education institutes in India and which are recognised by the UGC. Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences has its own system of allotting credit points to students in university examinations, and the university has made provision for elective subjects and credit scores in the curriculum. Even internal marks are also uploaded to the university portal online, which will add further to the credit-based scoring system. Mallige College of Pharmacy is affiliated with Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences, Karnataka. The Institute will initiate a system of Academic Bank of Credits (ABC) in line with the instructions from the University.

17.Skill development:

Mallige College of Pharmacy, Bengaluru, has set standards in organising various skill development programs for the student community. The institute is engaged in organising add-on certificate courses, handling ICT tools, webinars, seminars, and conferences to further enhance the professional knowledge and skills required at higher studies and in the pharmaceutical industry. The institution has MOUs with many organisations and has organised several skill development programs as part of those MOUs. To focus on the inclusion of best practices, the institute implemented Presentation Skills: Smart and Confident Presentation Method to enhance the communication and presentation skills of the students, which indirectly increases the scoring ability in practical exams during viva-voce and also enhances the employability of the student's community. The institution's innovative cell encourages faculty and students to acquire the skills needed by industries. Further, problem-based learning and project-based learning are in place to develop practical skills among student's communities. Even many faculty members have trained under the Education Methodology workshop and also attended the FDP program in teaching and learning methods. Further, the institute has plans to encourage faculty to register under various AICTE online programs like MOOCs and SWAYAM

18.Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

India has a rich heritage and culture, and the institution admits students from various regions and religions. Various programs like Matri-Basha Diwas (International Mother Tongue Day), Saraswati Pooja, Onam, Ethnic Day, etc., have been organised to showcase their region and religion culture. The institution encourages the students to organise national festivals like Independence Day and Republic Day, and this promotes national integration and patriotism. Since pharmacy education uses English as a medium of instruction and communication, organising any events in English is very essential to prepare the students to be corporate/industry ready. The institution further commemorates significant dates and hosts activities in regional languages to instill a sense of regional pride. Even World Pharmacists' Day and Teacher's Day, International Women's Day, and many more have been organised in the institution. National commemorative days such as Constitution Day and International Yoga Day are also observed as per the Institutional calendar of events

19.Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

Mallige College of Pharmacy has been practicing OBE. Every course taught in the Institute has the course outcomes that are mapped to graduate attributes (POs) as well as program educational objectives (PEOs) and program-specific outcomes (PSOs). At the beginning of every course, the students are made aware of the outcomes expected by the end of the course, and their performance through the courses is assessed in an effective continuous internal evaluation (CIE). At the end of the semester, their performance in the university exam is also taken into account while evaluating COs and POs of the course. In a similar way, COs and POs of all the courses are evaluated and assessed against targets. Any gaps/corrective measures are appropriately noted for follow-up during the subsequent academic years. In addition to these direct assessments, indirect assessment in the form of a Course End Survey (CES) is also used based on the feedback of the students. For every graduating batch, the attainment of graduating attributes is evaluated, and the variation over the previous year is considered to chalk out activities to fill the gap. This is a brief gist of our focus on OBE.

20.Distance education/online education:

The COVID-19 pandemic has really given us the opportunity to organise functions, teaching and learning seminars, and conferences virtually. Various digital platforms and tools were used and are still in practice to engage FDPs, webinars, meetings, etc., via online mode. Online education has broken geographical barriers and helped us meet and interact with experts at national and international levels. Even today, adopting hybrid modes of education combining both online and offline classes and conferences is in vogue and gaining importance, and this has drastically reduced the expenses of organisations. In fact, this is clearly addressed in the National Education Policy 2020. Our institution encourages students to take various online courses to enrich their existing knowledge.

programs and two for semester programs, conducted as per the academic calendar. Question papers are crafted following Bloom's Taxonomy and outcome-based education principles, ensuring a rigorous evaluation process.

In addition to the university curriculum, the institution offers 30-hour add-on courses, such as Communication Skills and Pharmacovigilance, to enhance student competencies. Feedback from stakeholders drives curriculum updates, fostering professional ethics, gender equity, and sustainability. These practices reflect the institution's commitment to excellence in pharmacy education and holistic student development.

1.3 - Curriculum Enrichment*1.3.1 - Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

The holistic development of students requires the effective integration of cross-cutting issues relating to gender, the environment and sustainability, human values, and professional ethics. Various courses are included in the curriculum, such as II semester B.Pharm Environmental Science (EVS) course that teaches about the impacts of human activities on nature. Pharmaceutical jurisprudence, a fifth-semester B Pharm and third-year Pharm D curriculum, focuses on professional ethics and their significance. Pharmacology II in the 5th semester of B Pharm is designed to provide fundamental knowledge about animal ethics. The community pharmacy course in the second year Pharm D curriculum will inform students about effective patient counselling, the code of ethics, and the rational use of pharmaceuticals. Apart from the curriculum, the NSS committee and the Women Cell of our college have organised different programmes, including webinars, quizzes, and poster presentation competitions on gender sensitisation, women empowerment, and gender equality. In addition, National Energy Conservation Day, National Pharmacy Week 2023 and 2024, and National Pharmacovigilance Week 2023 and 2024 were celebrated by our institution, and various events were organised, such as an online poster competition, a webinar, and an e-quiz competition, as well as various guest lectures, poster competitions, and elocution competitions. Other activities, including eye check-ups and glucose monitoring, were also organised.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

Students learning levels are monitored through class interactions, synopses, class tests, viva voce, and sessional exams. Based on their performances, they are categorised as slow, average, and advanced learners, and their activities are monitored. The slow learners are provided with remedial classes (assigned timetable, micro notes, important questions), assignments, mind mapping, quizzes, viva voce, and reading classes. A written exam is conducted to analyse their progress. They are supported by advanced learners to clarify the concepts in the regional language. Average and advanced learners were encouraged to draft assignments for slow learners, participate in seminars and poster presentations, and assist slow learners in a remedial class for effective learning. Advanced learners are requested to refer to textbooks and participate in competitions, health awareness campaigns, poster presentations, and other extracurricular activities. The process is monitored by the class teacher, and the events are reported to the head of the organisation, and reports are submitted to the academic council. A PT meeting is also held and If the class teacher finds the ward not performing, the teacher would take support of the proctor in counseling and in helping the student to improve the study.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

Experiential learning practices, participative learning, and problem-solving methodology are conducted to enable the students to develop their technical skills and knowledge. These make students remain focused, learn differently, and learn faster. Students are demonstrated with the experiments, followed by hands-on laboratory experiments, internships, and practical field exercises in a group activity. Participative learning includes assignments, attending seminars, case studies, chart organisation and preparation, field visits, picking and speaking about a topic as a group, and attending research protocol presentations. Students are allowed to visit industry, community pharmacies, hospital visits, etc., to exchange knowledge and practice of the profession and perform tasks allied to their field of study. Students participate in processions, road rallies, campaigning, and other social cause activities. Students also join in PG dissertation presentations to understand the proceedings of research presentations and project protocol submissions. Students are demonstrated with various models and similar techniques in animal handling (life). They are encouraged to perform live lab experiments and use computational tools to analyse and interpret data. Students also participate in competitions, debates, and poster presentations. Students take part in PBL (group activity) to develop problem-solving skills, self-directed learning, collaboration skills, and intrinsic motivation. These include presentation, observation, discussion, and speaking.

2.3.2 - Teachers use ICT enabled tools for effective teaching-learning process. Write description in maximum of 200 words

Information and communication (ICT) tools are also used effectively in all semesters as an innovative method.

Complementary ICT tools are used when students are not able to understand or visualise dull concepts. ICT could simply make the topic interesting in the education system due to the advancement of technologies. ICT has been more emphasised when students were not able to attend the classes physically. The ICT tools used are printed documents, spreadsheets, PowerPoint presentations, WhatsApp blogs, Google Classroom, Canvas classrooms, the Alive website, and MS Teams. Study material in the form of Word documents and PDFs is shared with students. Study materials in written form are used as references for current subjects and for future use while preparing for competitive exams. PowerPoint presentations are used for teaching and learning in online classes. Students are communicated with through blogs like WhatsApp in which subject teachers and their students are the members. Google Classroom has been conveniently used for giving assignments and evaluating learning. Online classes and examinations have been conducted through MS Teams and Aliveplatforms. The Canvas platform has been used for sharing the notes and evaluation of the studentsprogress.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

The internal assessment is conducted as prescribed by the RGUHS (affiliated university). Accordingly, three internal assessments for the annual program and two internal assessments for the semester programme are conducted for each course. The schedule of the examination is prepared by the examination committee and approved by the head of the institution with a minimum eligibility of 80% attendance. The question paper is prepared considering the course outcome and Bloom's taxonomy. Two sets of the question paper are draughted and submitted by the subject teacher one week prior to the scheduled date of examination. One set of question papers will be randomly selected for the internal examination. After examination, the faculty evaluates the answer scripts and distributes them to the students for doubt clarifications or recorections. The discrepancy reported by the student is rectified, and the recorrected scripts are submitted to the examination branch, and marks are displayed on the noticeboard. The marks are uploaded to the university web portal prior to the final university examination and subsequently communicated to parents. The evaluation for laboratory courses is also assessed in a similar pattern as followed for theory courses. The students are regularly evaluated by conducting a synopsis, viva-voce, and practical experiment.

2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, time- bound and efficient

The institution has a well-planned method for redressal of examination-related grievances. The evaluation of internal sessional examination work is done by the subject teachers. The assessed answer scripts are shown to the students for self-assessment. In case of any grievances regarding internal assessment, the student is free to interact with the concerned teacher. The grievances of the students with reference to assessment are clarified by the subject teachers. Improvement of internal marks: The notice regarding the pre-sessional examination is notified one week before the scheduled examination time. The students who wish to take pre-sessional examinations obtained prior permission from the proctor, subject teacher, and class teachers. The students, after payment of the prescribed fee to the accounts within the due date, become eligible to write the examination. The concerned subject teachers will provide the syllabus to the eligible students. The valuation will be done by the subject teacher on the same day and marks are submitted to the examination committee. Students can verify their answer scripts/marks after the evaluation with the subject teacher. Within a time bound, the marks are entered in the university web portal.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Teachers and students are aware of the stated Programme and course outcomes of the Programmes offered by the institution.

Program outcomes of all programmes, M. Pharm, B. Pharm, and Pharm D, are framed effectively to make sure that the students are able to achieve the required outcome and able to fulfil all the activities relevant to the course they are pursuing. The outcomes are measured by mapping with the course outcomes of each course and are monitored effectively. The awareness of all program outcomes is made to reach the students by publishing in the college website, displaying in prominent areas of the premises, and making in printed format along with lab manuals. Program outcomes are draughted in each course file so as to make it clear to the faculty and student. The outcome of each program is also well explained to the students during the orientation program and the beginning of the theory classes. This ensures the stakeholders are able to fulfil the requirements and progress well and effectively in their learning during the whole period.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

The attainment of PO involves examining the CO. For CO analyses, the percentage scores are calculated: % of students scoring < 40—level 1, % of students scoring 40-59—level 2, % of students scoring 60 and above—level 3. A consolidated CO attainment is assessed by taking an average of all assessment tools. CO attainment is calculated based on continuous assessment, assignment, and sessional exam (direct assessment) -80 % taken for CO attainment, University exam (semester-end exam/year) - 15 % taken for CO attainment, course end survey (Indirect assessment)- 5 % taken for CO attainment. The indirect assessment survey includes exit interviews, employer surveys, course end surveys, and alumni surveys. For calculation of attainment, the weightage is kept at 30%:70% and for indirect assessment, it is 20%:80%. The PO results are analyzed with the set attainment level. For each subject the co-attainment is calculated by the subject teacher and the attainment is computed. In case of attainment is not possible, measures taken include a prospective plan to improve the outcomes. This is discussed in the academic committee, and further actions are taken.

3.3 - Extension Activities

3.3.1 - Extension activities are carried out in the neighborhood community, sensitizing students to social issues, for their holistic development, and impact thereof during the year

The institution has created an instinct for extension and outreach activities carried out in collaboration with government and non-government organisations. Our NSS team, in collaboration with the Red Cross Society and other organisations, is conducting many activities and services to the public who might not otherwise have access to those services. The institution has given the students the opportunity to expose themselves to public services. So that, the students became aware and brought awareness among the public community. Some of the programmes, like the blood donation campaign, health screening camp, clean environment, and health awareness programme in school, were conducted. The information was provided using displays of posters, audiovisual aids, and rallies. The orientation program is organised for the newly admitted students on antiragging, sexual harassment, and drug abuse in liaison with the police officer in order to create awareness.

Activities addressing social & gender issues: Mallige College of Pharmacy, in collaboration with the Gram Panchayat of Huralichikkanahalli, regularly organises awareness programs through its NSS unit. These initiatives include health camps, yoga sessions, No Tobacco Day observances, and women's empowerment activities, such as educating high school girls on menstrual hygiene and polycystic ovarian disease. The college conducts awareness programs in surrounding villages, inviting doctors from nearby healthcare centres for health check-ups. Special lectures and skit presentations on gender equity further enrich these efforts. The college has received appreciation letters from recognised bodies for its impactful community engagement.

Blood Donation Programme: The college has been organising the blood donation camps.

The Alumni Association can help in the following ways: There has been a practice in the institution to take feedback from alumni with regards to infrastructure, admissions, teaching and learning, experiential learning, research, and publication, especially on the curriculum followed. This feedback process is continuous; that is, as and when time comes. The formal feedback form is got filled once in a year when the annual alumni meet is conducted. Some of the Alumni members who are locally accessible are invited to the programmes, like seminars and national and international dedicated days that are celebrated. During that time they have assured some financial assistance in the form of cash and kinds. The Alumni Association has the ability to fund current students' education by establishing scholarship and grant programmes. This can ease some of the financial pressure and assist in making sure worthy students can afford a good education. Mentoring and networking are two ways in which alumni can give back to the academic community and help current students succeed.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

Best Practice - 1 Title: PRESENTATION SKILLS: SMART & CONFIDENT PRESENTATION METHOD

Mallige College of Pharmacy implemented a professional and personality development program to enhance students' presentation and communication skills, addressing challenges faced by students from rural and low socio-economic backgrounds. The program involved UG and PG students creating video presentations on curriculum topics without relying on visual aids, with the best entries rewarded. This initiative aimed to boost confidence, reduce anxiety, and improve job readiness. Feedback from students, faculty, and employers highlighted its success, though challenges like managing large student participation and video analysis were noted. The program inspired positive outcomes, with strong support from management, faculty, and staff driving its success.

Best practice-2: Remedial classes for slow learners

The institution identifies weaker students in B.Pharm and Pharm D programs after the 1st semester and conducts remedial classes to strengthen their knowledge and skills. Students scoring less than 30% in sessional exams are classified as slow learners. Weekly schedules include extra hours for revision and unit tests, supported by individual academic counseling and assignments on university question papers. Faculty prepare notes, question banks, and short answers to assist students in examinations. Progress is monitored through regular feedback and result analysis. Despite challenges like time constraints and low participation, the program has shown improvement in students' academic performance and satisfaction levels.
